She currently lives in Montrose, Colorado with her husband Bruce, and they plan to celebrate their 50th anniversary this year.

Colorado State Welcomes Northeast Regional Director Dr. Jane Tanner, International Society Representative, to State Convention

After leading New York Beta Kappa and Chi chapters, Dr. Tanner served as Executive Secretary, Treasurer, President, and treasurer and vice-chair of the state foundation. She currently is a member of the Grants-in-Aid Committee and the State Achievement Award Committee, which she received in 2005.

Dr. Tanner has attended every Northeast Regional and International Convention since 1995. She has served on the International Research, Golden Gift Fund, and Finance committees as well as chair of DKG Educational Foundation. As Northeast Regional director, she will be coordinating this summer's Global Awareness International Conference in Mashantucket, CT.

Dr. Tanner received her AB in mathematics from Cornell University, her MS in Education from the State University of New York at Oswego and has completed graduate work at the College of Environmental Science and Forestry and UCLA Extension. She taught middle and high school mathematics for four years and computer information systems and mathematics at Onondaga Community College for 36 years. She retired in 2018.

President's Corner

Dear Colorado State,

Our 2019 State Convention theme Into the Wild Blue Yonder--Forward Moving Ever! inspires us to look out into the possibilities of our future as Colorado State of The Delta Kappa Gamma Society International. For each of us, the future is wide open, ripe with possibilities, and ours to claim. So let's ask ourselves-- what will provide us the energy and vision to propel us into our future?

As we move forward, the traditions we hold onto will determine how we continue our journey. To meld our DKG traditions with the journey forward, we invite you to join us at Wild Blue Yonder Ball Saturday evening at the Convention. While installing new officers for the 2019-2021 biennium, let's wear long formal gowns and white gloves to recall the gentile times of our past. What a beautiful picture we'll make-- dressed for a ballroom, looking forward with hope--uniting our traditions with our future! (If you want to wear jeans, come ahead.)

My husband and I hosted the annual Kentucky Derby Party for the Colorado Brigade of Colonels, and I posted the photos of him in his seersucker pants and pink bow tie and me in my big fancy hat on Facebook. There we were, dressed in formal traditional style, publishing our photos on a more modern social media platform. And guess what? Older and younger friends alike got a kick out of our costumes. (We hope you do, too!) So we dressed traditionally, shared modernly, and entertained others from 18 to 80--including ourselves. My point is: everything we do harkens back to traditions we cherish and gives us joy to move forward.

We also gather energy and vision from our International Society. At our Colorado State Convention, Dr. Jane Tanner will bring us an International update, a round table discussion on DKG changes, and a workshop on online dues collection. This summer, International offers growth and inspiration in Conference opportunities-- Leadership in Iowa, Arts and Humanities in North Carolina, Technology in California, Professional Research and Practices in Iceland, or Global Awareness in Connecticut.

At the local level, we rely on elected leaders to fill us with energy and vision. State President-Elect, Leila Koenig and our new Executive Leaders will step forward to fill us with hope in our next biennium. State Team Leaders and Chapter Presidents inspire, lead, and provide a vision and the energy to complete it, and you'll all be celebrated at our Convention too!

Chapters are the heart of DKG. As I end my biennium as State President, I'm filled with the joys of visiting chapters and inspired by the incredible ways you're leading your communities, growing personally and professionally as you lead. I want to thank each of you for being the women who have provided me with Praise and Possibility, the strong wise leaders who have shown me a vision of the best Colorado State DKG can be, and the friends I love and cherish. Let's head out into the Wild Blue Yonder together, holding onto the traditions that make us great!

Much Love,

Janet

Colorado State Slate of Officers for 2019-2021

Mrs. Suzanne Foster

1st Vice President

I have been asked to serve on the Omega State Executive Committee for the past two bienniums. I have been happy and comfortable with my work in Music/Arts/Humanities Education and politely declined. A former colleague, Phyllis Finlay, has convinced me that it is time to move from my position of comfort to the next level. My energy, management skills and positive approach to challenges will serve Omega State well. I welcome the challenge.

I have always wanted to be an educator; I started my teaching career in North Dakota with six years in public school, three years as a graduate teaching assistant and fellow and three years in a parochial high school, I moved to Colorado. I was hired by Eagle County Schools where I was active as a teacher association member, president and teacher advocate. I was initiated into Alpha Chi in 1992, and served at the Chapter level as Secretary, Treasurer, President, and Co-President over the 24 years that I taught at Battle Mountain High School. I attended the DKG Board meetings and became a member of the Music Committee and, for the last 5 1/2 years, I have been the Chair of the Music, Arts and Humanities Education Team. I feel that every endeavor I have undertaken has been successful due to the support and help of others, and I also feel that moving to a position on the Executive Board of Colorado State DKG is a good and timely move for me.

Dr. Maxine Fawcett-Yeske

*Second Vice President –
Second Term*

I am excited about the opportunity to serve Delta Kappa Gamma at the Omega State level as the Second Vice President. I believe in giving back to the community that nurtures and inspires me, and Delta Kappa Gamma has done that for me for more than ten years now. I have served two bienniums as President of the Eta Chapter. Members of the chapter have said that I have “breathed new life into our chapter out of sheer will and enthusiasm.” I suggest, however, that I have sparked enthusiasm in our members and together, we’ve been recapturing the spirit of our chapter. I hope my enthusiasm and leadership can help us find ways to strengthen and grow DKG at the state level and beyond.

Maxine has a BS in Music, a Masters in Music Education, a Ph.D. in Music History and is currently working on a Masters in Arts in History. Currently she is employed at the United States Air Force Academy as Director of First-Year Programs, Academic Advisor, and Professor of History and Music.

As a member of Eta Chapter Maxine has served as Chapter President and Vice President. She has led Communication and Publicity Committee and has also served on the Membership Committee and the Community and World Connections Committee.

Dr Fawcett-Yeske is a member of numerous professional organizations such as the American Musicological Society, The College Music Society, and The Society for American Music. Also, she serves as the Officer-in-Charge for the Cadet Native American Heritage Club at the United States Air Force Academy. She is an elected member of the Faculty Senate at the Air Force Academy. In her community, she sings in the Celebration Multicultural Ensemble—a group that specializes in African American spirituals and gospel music, and her most recent volunteer work has been with One Nation Walking Together—a non-profit organization that provides food, clothing, and furniture to Native American communities in a seven-state region.

Miss Mary Lauck

Recording Secretary

With my background as an English and journalism teacher, I believe I have the ability and skills to be an effective recording secretary for Colorado Delta Kappa Gamma. I understand the importance of complete and accurate records of business meetings. It is also important, as an officer, to be part of the leadership team for the benefit of all the chapters and individual members of Delta Kappa Gamma in Colorado. When I take on an office or volunteer job, I take the responsibility seriously and endeavor to do the best work I can do.

A Colorado native, Mary Lauck was raised in Wiggins, Colorado on a farm. She is the granddaughter of German from Russia Immigrants to the United States in the early 1900s and the daughter of first-generation Americans, none of whom were high school graduates, but all of whom cared deeply about education. This family background and the excellent teachers she had as a student in the Wiggins public schools influenced her decision to become a high school English teacher. She earned both a B.A. and M.A. from the University of Northern Colorado in Greeley. In addition to teaching English at Platte Valley High School in Kersey, Mary also took on the responsibilities of teaching journalism and advising both the bi-monthly school magazine and the annual school yearbook. In 2010 she was honored as the Colorado State Journalism Adviser of the Year and was also given a Lifetime Achievement Award at the Journalism Education Association Convention.

Mrs. Michelle Miller

Recording Secretary

As a detailed, organized individual I have always taken notes at meetings (which is why I’ve served as secretary in different organizations and committees). As I am now retired from full-time educational work, I feel compelled to use my strengths and skill set to give back to the organizations and communities that have been significant and important in my life. As a Delta Kappa Gamma member, I feel a move to the executive board allows options for different state, regional, and/or international service in the future. I would be honored to serve as Omega's (Colorado's) State Recording Secretary.

My educational service has allowed me to teach in five states and two foreign countries in a wide variety of positions. I received my Bachelor of Science in Elementary Education with a Reading Endorsement in 1982 from Oregon State University. I taught elementary students (pre-school – grade 6) for several years. When our son was born, I ended up working part-time teaching the GED program to incarcerated men who had earned the privilege to continue their education. After a couple of moves and our daughter's birth, I taught in a Title One School and was their reading teacher. This position evolved over the years and I became a lead teacher (of nine other staff) of a school-within-a-school program to help students make rapid gains in reading, writing, and math. During my time in this position, I earned my Master's in Education with an emphasis on Curriculum and Instruction – primarily literacy. Another physical move allowed me the opportunity to teach another eleven years as a middle school English and American Studies teacher. After our children were settled into their college years, my husband (also a teacher) and I decided to teach abroad. I was hired as a literacy coach and spent the remainder of my paid professional career helping teachers hone their literacy practice in the classroom.

I became a member of DKG after an invite from my husband's grandmother after being awarded "Teacher of the Year" in our small community. (This was when you still had to prove your excellence in the profession to be invited to join.). As a mother with two growing children, I was active in my chapter and all activities, but decided not to hold an office or become involved at the regional or state level (other than attending conferences). While overseas, DKG was not an option locally, so I stayed active with my "state-side" chapter and participated mainly through financial contributions and attending meetings during our holidays. Now that I have retired from full-time paid educational service, I have time to give-back to the organizations I have so valued.

Currently, I work part time (to maintain health benefits) and participate in different volunteering endeavors. I have begun a partnership with my local neighborhood school to be a volunteer literacy consultant. This includes helping teachers collect data, modeling best practices, helping gather resources, and providing support and guidance in terms of lesson and unit planning. I limit my hours (as this is a volunteer position, but love being involved in the school environment). I am also very involved at our church (serve as treasurer and serve on other committees). I work at the local animal shelter once a month – cleaning cages. I help out with trail maintenance and water clean-up crews (although, I will admit I only do this during fair weather). I support our local community groups (scouts, food drives, Salvation Army, Firefighters, and the like by participating in drives, raffles, etc.)

Mrs. Kerry Tripp

*Corresponding Secretary -
Second Term*

When I became a member of Alpha Delta Chapter in 1988, I was so honored to be a part of a society that included so many women I had known as mentor, colleague, administrator and friend. I had admired these women for years while teaching in the Cherry Creek school district. PLUS, I was introduced to equally remarkable and talented women from Englewood, Littleton and Sheridan. This group holds a special place in my heart for its kindness, support, humor, caring and dedication to educating children and holding the bar high to be a strong and positive influence as a teacher. When I reflect on these past moments, I smile happily remembering the relationships, hard work and learning that the chapter provided me.

Becoming a member of the Nominations Committee in 2011 opened another door of the Delta Kappa Gamma world to me. Expanding my awareness and experiences to the women from around the state had been good for me as a person and a member. Learning about the amazing programs that are occurring around the state was exciting and honestly, ideas that I have pinched and taken back to my chapter. This is a group that is making a difference for kids and teachers in so many ways and it is such a good feeling to be a part of it.

DKG has been good to me and for me. Giving back to the society by working with the women who will lead the two years builds on my desire to see our organization grow and welcome, engage and support women educators.

Mrs. Tripp is a retired teacher from the Cherry Creek School District where she taught elementary/intermediate students for 31 years. She received her Bachelor's degree from Colorado State College and her Masters from Colorado University.

As a member of Alpha Delta chapter, Kerry has served as president, 1st Vice President, 2nd Vice President and chair for the Membership Committee. At the state level she had served on the Personal and Professional Pride Committee, the Expansion Committee, the Membership Committee and Nominations Committee as both a member and chair.

In the community, Kerry is active in the Retired Employees of Cherry Creek School District, as a member, fundraising chair and secretary. She is also a member of the Cherry Creek Teacher Awards Committee and Spellbinders in both Cherry Creek and Littleton districts.

Happy Birthday, DKG!

90 years ago on May 11, 1929 Dr. Annie Webb Blanton along with the other founding members of DKG met at the University Faculty Women's Club on the campus of the University of Texas in Austin to form what is now the Delta Kappa Gamma Society International. Today, with over 65,000 members across 17 countries and encompassing 78 state organizations, we, the members of DKG have much to recall, to consider, and to contemplate regarding our Society.

In my most recent article in the DKG News I offered my birthday wish on this auspicious occasion. My wish is that we all face reality and act upon it to move DKG toward a productive future that we can share on our 100th birthday in just 10 short years. We must grow in purpose, realize and share the worth of DKG with more key women educators around the world, foster a contagious enthusiasm that elicits energy and motivates service to our communities and globally, and develop succession plans at all three levels that prepare and promise leaders who will eclipse the work begun by our Founders. It's a huge wish, but one I know we can realize. Why? Because we are indeed "Leading Women Educators Impacting Education Worldwide." Celebrate our 90 years now, and keep that 100th birthday in mind and the birthday wishes made today with our future in mind! Happy Birthday!

2017 Convention Minutes
THE DELTA KAPPA GAMMA SOCIETY INTERNATIONAL
OMEGA STATE COLORADO
June 9-11, 2017 Omega State Convention
Embracing the Heart of DKG
2015-2017 Biennium
Hilton Fort Collins
Saturday, June 10, 2017

President Dr. Sue Pettit called the first business meeting of the 2017 Omega State Convention to order at 7:42 am. Omega State was deeply honored and privileged to have the presence of Carolyn Pittman, 2016-2018 International President of Delta Kappa Gamma, among us. The Second General Session began with an Inspiration by Interim First Vice President, Janet, referring to inspiring women in her life. Following roll call and a review of the Standing Rules of the 2017

Omega State Convention, credentials were reviewed, and quorum was established. The 2015 convention minutes were approved as corrected.

Executive Committee and Appointed Personnel Reports were reviewed. Members were referred to the "Business Meeting Agenda and Materials" to review reports. Under the State President's Report, Dr. Pettit recognized the biennium's committee chairmen and reflected on the blessings they have brought to her life as president and to the organization as a whole. Under the Treasurer's Report, Lilly reminded members, when submitting money to Omega State, to always make the check payable to Colorado Delta Kappa Gamma Society. Archivist, Kathy cited that the last two lines on her report belong under Webmaster.

Wendy Burrell Publishes a Book

As the saying goes, "Necessity is the mother of invention". When Chi Chapter member, Wendy Burrell, couldn't locate a suitable book about parakeets to use with her after school pet care class, she wrote one herself. Wilbur Wings His Way Home, a children's picture book, details the life of a young parakeet named Wilbur who after leaving a pet store with his new family encounters many adventures. Along the way, the reader learns the ins and outs of parakeet care. A glossary, fact page, and a list of resources add to the informational aspect of the book. The whimsical watercolor illustrations bring the text to life, and help Wilbur's story deliver the message of care and kindness for our feathered friends. Congratulations Wendy, on becoming a published author! Both hardcover and softcover books are available by contacting Wendy at jerwen1948@gmail.com.

Eta Chapter Welcomes New Member

Eta Chapter initiated Katie Fails at the May 14th meeting. Katie was the Chapter's 2016 Grant-in-Aid Scholarship Recipient. She now teaches second grade at John J. Audubon Elementary School in Colorado Springs District-11. Katie earned her Bachelor's Degree from CSU in Fort Collins and earned her teaching license from UCCS. Katie says she went into teaching because she "believes education is the key to success in life." She enjoys DKG because "everyone is so passionate about teaching and helping the youth of America." Welcome, Katie!

Eta Chapter member Marjorie Swearingen-Erickson gives her DKG pin to newest member, Katie Fails.

Omega Chapter

Heather Martin

Omega’s March meeting featured Columbine survivor Heather Martin. One of our members, Shalese Stroup, taught with Heather at Aurora Central High School and recommended her to speak to us. Heather shared her experiences on the tragic day at the high school when she sheltered in place in a classroom across from the library. Heather and other survivors have formed The Rebels Project which is ready to help other victims of school shootings with their presence, listening ears, and advice. Heather made three poignant points during her presentation. First, they never speak the names of the perpetrators. Second, they do not enter into political discourse about gun laws. Finally, she is always careful about asking former principal, Frank de Angelis, for help.

She said that he has worked tirelessly and always goes above and beyond what is asked. He has been a true leader of the school, and both he and Heather have been positive influences in their community. We were very impressed with this young woman and her message.

Mary Metcalf, Omega Chapter President

Omega Chapter of DKG had a busy end of the year meeting. Zohra Nacer spoke about her immigration to America from Algeria. Fears for her and her husband’s safety as journalists prompted their move. She now speaks 3 languages, teaches French to private students, works for Marriott Hotels and is a commissioner for Boy Scouts of America. She is a true success story.

Suzanne Richards, secretary of highest caliber and provider of a lovely party room in her clubhouse often, received the Service to the Chapter Award. She is a master at sending out email notices quickly and efficiently.

Lois Astler organizes a donation drive every year for Community Housing Partners which provides help to homeless families who are finally moving into their own apartments. She received our Public Service Award. Aurora Board of Education member and Omega chapter member Cathy Wildman was awarded our Professional Service Award for providing many years of service to our community. Thank you, Ladies!

Lastly, we initiated Suzanne Payne, sister of President Mary Metcalf into our chapter. Suzy worked at various engineering companies and taught CAD, Computer Aided Drafting for many years at Arapahoe Community College and Pickens Technical School in Aurora. Suzy and Mary are proud of the fact that their Grandmother Grace Crandall was a member of DKG in Texas and also Colorado where she retired. Grandmother Grace would be proud, we believe. ☺

Zeta Chapter

Ladies of Zeta Chapter enjoyed the musical talents of the piano students taught by Zeta's Millie Jurneke. These students range from elementary to high school age and are preparing for their competitive recitals. These young students gain confidence and poise as they develop their skills and reap the benefits of long, hard hours of practice! Thank you students and Millie!

Precious Child has been Zeta's Philanthropic Project for several years and recently Precious Child moved to a new and larger facility in Broomfield, Colorado. They are an amazing organization providing much needed items for the community. In April, a special tour of the facility was presented to the Zeta Chapter members providing a greater understanding and appreciation for the need of this type of project.

2019 celebrating continued in May with our Founders' Day Program and a very special cake honoring the 90th anniversary of Delta Kappa Gamma! We celebrated Kelsey Fugita, our scholarship recipient, awarded for the second year. Kelsey continues her training for Elementary Education and has been very successful this past year in the schools where she's been assigned. She "loves" teaching and will no doubt be an outstanding educator! (Zeta is actively pursuing her for future membership)!

Founders' Day celebrating included an informative and interesting interview with "Founder Annie Webb Blanton". Annie's performance was by Zeta's own Vivian Harvey, and her interviewer was Zeta's Ethel Clow, chair of the Membership Committee. It was a delightful insight to our DKG heritage and inspiration for all.

The first "Colorado State Delta Kappa Gamma Awards" for chapter members 2019, was presented to Elizabeth Price for "Public Service Award"; Nancy McFaddin for "Service to the Chapter" and Mary L. Boughton for "Professional Service". Thanks to these ladies for their devotion to DKG.

Speak Up for Education and Kids

The 2017-18 school year has begun and teachers and students are hard at work achieving the best results possible. Some important pointers that have been useful in past years are worth reviewing.

1. Local activism is key in advancing education. Nationwide people care deeply for public schools and look to educators for direction in ways they can
 2. Today's challenges in education are so great, we need to know where to begin and to whom to talk with.
 3. By attending local association and school board meetings we can keep informed on who the state and local officeholders are that have a hand in education policy.
 4. Always present a positive attitude toward your school, students, parents and be ready to share the exciting activities happening in your school.
 5. Work to strengthen the bond between educators and your community. Invite an educator to speak at your community gatherings or invite them to school activities.
 6. Get to know your elected officials. Most lawmakers do not know much about what we do in schools and the barriers your students may be facing inside and outside school. Communicate verbally or in writing. Always, present a positive outlook and attitude.
 7. Inspire a vision of what public schools can be. Remind the that a well-resourced school and a well-rounded curriculum provide learning opportunities.
 8. Define what the best schools in your district have that your struggling schools don't have. Practice talking about your vision.
 9. Since educators are reliable voters, help support candidates know and understand the demands of education so they can become elected .
- EDUCATION IS POLITICAL! We elect the people who have a say in how much money goes into schools.
10. Check with state and local affiliates such as CEA/NEA to find out about recommended candidates and find out how to help them get elected.

Remember, fighting for public education will never a one-win battle. Each election brings a new wave of policymakers who need to be schooled. Reach out to an elected leader who represents you and share your story in professional and positive manner. Source: NEA Today, Fall 2017

Phending off the Phishermen!

"Spearphishing" is an internet scam that targets or "spears" an individual or organization. These emails can ask for money, more personal information, or more information about the organization to help the scammers craft future attacks.

If you get an unusual email, here's how to identify a fraud:

1. Check the "From" and "Date" info. Sometimes the address is wrong. Sometimes the date has an odd time. Most scammers are in foreign countries and not on US time.
2. Look for misspelled words, incorrect grammar, punctuation, and syntax.
3. See if the email "sounds like" the person you know. Odd diction like "regards," "do the needful," or "kindly advise" are not terms Americans usually use.

If you think you have received a spearphishing email, here's what to do.

1. If an email asks for money, don't respond. If you are in doubt, call the actual person who the email is supposed to be from to see if she asked for money.
2. The email may pose as UPS, FedEx, bank, IRS or other entity and include a link to "click" on. Never click on a link in an email that seems suspicious! Doing so can enable the scammer to install viruses, malware or ransomware on your computer. If you are in doubt, call the entity that the email purports to be from using their public phone numbers.

2. Do not respond or give any personal information to the sender.
3. Delete the email.
4. If you have responded to the "spearfisher," he has you on his "spear" as someone who is a willing target and will probably send future emails asking for money. Just delete them.

Use these common sense guidelines, and always be on your guard when receiving emails--particularly those that seem out of the ordinary, request a highly urgent response, or ask for money or personal information.

To Teach Is to Touch the Future

Dr. Maxine Fawcett-Yeske (DFR) was honored at the 20th Anniversary Concert of the Kirksville Community Chorus in Kirksville, Missouri, on 29 April. The Kirksville Community Chorus was founded and directed by Dr. Fawcett-Yeske from 1997-1999 when she was teaching at Truman State University in Kirksville. With a grant she secured through the Missouri Arts Council, she established a choir of approximately 75 people, some who drove as many as 200 miles just to be able to attend rehearsals. At the anniversary concert, Dr. Fawcett-Yeske shared brief comments and was treated to a reception in her honor, which included visits from charter members of the organization and some of the students who took her classes at Truman State twenty years ago. "To teach is to touch the future."

Dr. Fawcett-Yeske addresses the chorus and audience at the 20th Anniversary Concert of the Kirksville Community Chorus in Missouri.

Annie Webb Blanton and Mom

Katherine Lydia Pittenger was born on a steamy, July evening in 1916 in Chicago. Being born in Illinois was like being born in a foreign country, for she was Texas, through and through, but her father, A Texas professor, was teaching a summer seminar at the University of Chicago.

When Katherine and her parents returned to Austin in the Fall, Katherine grew up an only and lonely little girl in her childhood home on East 32nd Street. Having no brothers or sisters and being the prodigy of academic types, Katherine was mature for her age, and spent most of her early years underfoot of her parents, their close-knit German relatives and their friends and associates.

Katherine's father, Benjamin Floyd Pittenger, was the Dean of Education at the University of Texas at Austin from 1926-1957. Aside from Dr. Pittenger's responsibilities of teaching and administration, much of his time was spent encouraging collegiality with the education faculty of the University. Katherine attended all those academic functions whether picnics at Barton Springs or more formal dinners at the family home. One of Katherine's fond memories was of Annie Webb Blanton, who as an education professor at UT, attended those social activities. Dr. Blanton took an interest in Katherine's education and always had time to visit with her about her schooling and future aspirations.

Katherine completed high school at 16, earned a degree in English from UT at 20 and went on to earn a Master's in Speech Therapy from the University of Iowa. She did teach for a couple of years but forwent a career in education to marry and raise a family. Katherine's youngest of four children, Laurie Harris Salazar, did however, pursue a career in education at the elementary level and retired from her 30 years in the field as a principal. Katherine’s daughter, Laurie, is a 20 year member of Delta Kappa Gamma, the organization started by Annie Webb Blanton in 1929. What a small world we live in! Annie would be thrilled and proud to know how her legacy has continued.

The Gold Piece

Reprinted with Permission

Last August, prowling through eBay's latest Delta Kappa Gamma listing I came across a shock! A Delta Kappa Gamma state president's pin offered for sale; HOW could this be?

I had become accustomed to seeing key pins and chapter president pins, but a STATE president's pin! Oh, no! Immediately I called the Texas State Executive Secretary, Cheryl Crawford, and told what I'd seen. She concurred that Texas needed to purchase the pin. Texas State Organization President Dr. Jo Murphy agreed and authorized me to contact the seller and see if we could purchase the pin. Within ten minutes, the Texas state organization became the owner of a DKG state president's pin. Our intention was to present the pin to incoming 2019-2021 State President at her installation this June.

The seller had no information about the pin except that on the back was scratched S 35 36. In the next few days, I researched which states were chartered during 1935-36 and had presidents with the last initial of "S." The Heritage, Vol. I, revealed that only two state presidents in that time period had a last name that began with "S" -- Maycie K. Southall, Tennessee, who later became national president and a national achievement award recipient; and Hildegard Sweet, first state president of Colorado.

I wrote Becky Sadowski in Tennessee asking if Tennessee had Dr. Southall's pin. Kathy Flynn of Colorado was also contacted, inquiring about Hildegard's pin. In two days, Kathy replied Colorado was chartered in 1935; however Hildegard Sweet did not become state president until 1936 and served until 1939. Flynn was certain the pin was not Sweet's.

Becky's Tennessee answer was more intriguing. She explained that Xi State was chartered November 30, 1935. Dr. Southall was the first state president, installed in 1935. This could explain the date 35 36 on the back of the pin. Years later, Dr. Southall became ill and subsequently died, but she had left her DKG jewelry to a close DKG friend asking her to return the pieces to the proper places. When that lady became ill, she asked another DKG member and a colleague of Dr. Southall's to keep the envelope containing the jewelry until she recovered and could contact a Tennessee state officer to determine what should be done with it. Unfortunately, the member passed away before that happened, and Dr. Southall's colleague kept the envelope of jewelry locked in a box with other valuables for years. When this second DKG member died, her daughter brought her mother's valuables to her home and kept them locked in what she thought was a safe place. However, her home was burglarized and most of her valuables (including the envelope of Maycie Southall's jewelry) were stolen.

TSO's Executive Committee, on October 5-6, 2018, unanimously agreed to offer the pin to Tennessee at the price Texas paid as a gesture of sisterhood between the two states. On October 28, Tennessee Executive Board members gladly voted to reimburse Texas the purchase price of the pin.

Thanks to Texas, each state president of Tennessee while in office will proudly wear the key pin of Tennessee's first initiate, Tommie Reynolds, and the state president's pin of their first state president, Dr. Maycie Southall!
